Dear _____ (Name of the Receiver),

I am writing this letter to you on behalf of my husband who has been charged with the blame of money laundering. The main purpose behind writing this letter is to inform you of his character, and the rest is your call to make.

_____ (husband's name), my husband, is by far one of the gentlest people that I have come across. I have known him for _____ years, and we have been married for _____ years now. I can testify to his character as someone very generous, polite, and obedient to the law. The whole family and his social circle are ready to testify his decent behavior. No one has ever seen him do any suspicious activity. The money that has been found in his account has to be some sort of misunderstanding because we were not aware of it either.

We have led a decent life, not a very luxurious one. My husband shall be shown some leniency by you. I urge you to reconsider the case. I hope that you will do justice. Thanking you in anticipation.

Yours sincerely,

_____ (your name).
